

A Study in smooth FINGER LEGATO

Old French Melody

IT is frequently claimed that the national music of Hungary is really the music of the Hungarian gypsies. At any rate, the Hungarian composer, Franz Liszt, wove the gypsy music of native folk-tunes into fifteen Hungarian Rhapsodies. This type of music is characterized by abrupt changes in mood and rhythm and, therefore, has tonal effects all its own. In the following example, be sure to play with marked contrast, the opening theme, which should be played in a slow tempo and melancholy mood, and the fiery second theme; a theme which should be alive with animation and dash.

The Gypsy Camp

Very slowly (sad and melancholy)

Suggestions for Supplementary Material— use John Thompson's "The Hanon Studies"

First system of musical notation. Treble clef, key of D major (two sharps). The melody consists of eighth and quarter notes. The bass line features chords and single notes. A piano (p) dynamic marking is present in the third measure.

Very fast (with fire and dash)

Second system of musical notation. Treble clef, key of D major. The melody is highly rhythmic with many beamed eighth notes and accents. The bass line provides a steady accompaniment. A forte (f) dynamic marking is present in the first measure.

Third system of musical notation. Treble clef, key of D major. Continuation of the fast, rhythmic melody. The bass line includes some rests and moving lines. A fortissimo (ff) dynamic marking appears in the final measure.

Fourth system of musical notation. Treble clef, key of D major. Continuation of the fast, rhythmic melody. The bass line includes some rests and moving lines.

Presto

Fifth system of musical notation. Treble clef, key of D major. Continuation of the fast, rhythmic melody. The bass line includes some rests and moving lines. A fortissimo (ff) dynamic marking is present in the first measure of the second half of the system.
