

This is an ACCENT: >

An accent placed over a note  or under note  means that the note is to be played a little louder; the note is to be accented.

The KEY SIGNATURE

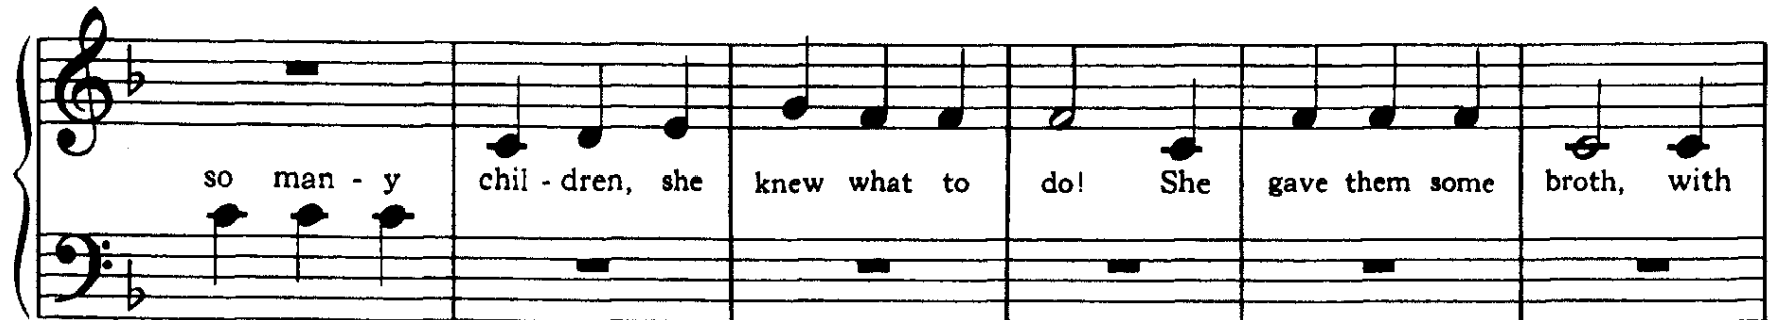

The Flat placed on line B, just after the treble clef and after the bass clef, tells you that the note B is to be played B flat throughout the piece. This flat placed at the beginning of the piece is called the Key Signature. The Key Signature in The OLD WOMAN IN A SHOE is one flat - B flat.

Key Signature

There was an old wo-man, who lived in a shoe; She had

CD Track 42 - Practise
CD Track 43 - Performance

so man - y chil - dren, she knew what to do! She gave them some broth, with out an - y bread, And whipped them all sound - ly and sent them to bed!